The President's Draught

By Paul Shafer, Club President

President's Draught
November 2007

I hope everyone enjoyed last month's meeting at Middle Ages Brewery. If you see Mark Rubenstein, be sure to thank him for all the free beer.

Well, the year is coming to a close...just one more meeting before the December Holiday Party, and of course, nominations for next year's officers. I know of at least one position that will be open. Speaking of the Holiday Party, plans are being made to host the event at Empire Brewing Company. More about that at the meeting.

Over the past year, we've talked about all the different steps in the brewing process, including getting the beer into the kegs. This month, we're going to talk about getting the beer into our mouths. I will give a talk on glassware and what's appropriate for different beers.

This month's tasting will feature barley wines, so bring your snifter, and as always, bring in those home brews for happy hour.

Cheers

Secretary's Report

Secretary's Report
Club Meeting – Middle Ages Brewery
October 9th, 2007

I think everyone had a great time at Middle Ages last month due to the generosity of Mark Ruebenstein.

Not a lot of club business was discussed but many raffle prizes were given out. If this is the only meeting you make in a year, it's worth the $20 club dues!

Stinger's Suds "Thanksgiving Assistance"

As we approach the Holiday's, there will be a bounty of opportunities to eat of plenty of food as well as drink homebrew. The combination of these two activities can be optimized with the right type of beer matched with the particular food. Since drinking beer and eating both affect your taste buds, the right combination of each can be pure bliss. To assist with dining enjoyment, below is a pairing reprinted from www.beertown.org
